

The St. Martin's College Richard Johnson First Year Scholarship

Introduction

Richard Johnson College was established in 1993, and like St Martin's College, it was an Anglican Residential College at a Regional University that aimed to provide pastoral care and support to students in residence. The College ceased to offer residential accommodation to students in 2006.

In 2010 St Martin's College received a donation of $400,000 from Richard Johnson College that was used to assist in reducing the building debt of St Martin's College and to establish the Richard Johnson Scholarship. The scholarship is aimed at enabling students from rural & Regional low SES background, or students who have been in Anglicare "out of home" care to commence university study at CSU's Wagga Wagga campus. Applicants must be resident in St Martin's College to receive the scholarship which covers a significant portion of their first year accommodation costs in St Martin's College.

Richard Johnson College was named after the Reverend Richard Johnson, an Anglican Priest, who volunteered as Chaplain to "The First Fleet" and who conducted the first Christian Church Service in Australia on the 3rd February 1788 in Farm Cove. His sermon that day was based on Psalm 116 verse 12, "How shall I repay the Lord for all his benefits to me?" Richard Johnson not only tirelessly "lived and shared" the Gospel of Christ, but was also the pioneer of education in NSW and was concerned for the education of all children establishing schools in Sydney, Parramatta and on Norfolk Island. Rev'd Johnson also established a fund to care for orphans, he was well known for his care of sick and dying convicts and his friendship with the "first" Australians. The memory of his life continues to challenge us to find ways to offer gratitude to God for all God's blessings in our lives.

This scholarship aims to build on Richard Johnson's concerns for orphans, first Australians, and those living in rural and remote areas by enabling them to gain a university education.
